

AEON™

Enhanced Performance Laminate

Delivering World Class Decorative Surfaces

Acknowledged as pioneers in colour and texture, Wilsonart International has built an enviable record as a Global leader in decorative surface solutions. Continuous product development, stringent quality controls and the highest service levels have separated Wilsonart from competitors since 1956. And the business still holds firm to Ralph Wilson's core philosophies almost 60 years later.

Continuing Wilson's pioneering spirit, AEON™ Enhanced Performance Laminate delivers to our customer a product with unique wear characteristics without compromising design flexibility.

AEON™ Enhanced Performance Laminate is not just a new coating or finish. It is a new way of making high-pressure laminate that results in finer and more accurately layered aluminium oxide particles sitting in the top layer of the material, protecting it when objects slide across the surface.

The result is a surface that is measurably harder and stronger.

An ultra-durable material that will look new for longer.

No Compromise to Design

Manufactured by and only available from Wilsonart®, this anti-scratch, anti-wear finish is available in a number of options. From satin to high-gloss, timber grain to quarry, there is a finish to suit most residential or commercial applications.

AEON™ Enhanced Performance Laminate is also available in a series of High-Definition finishes, which takes high-pressure laminate to a whole new level.

Gloss and satin, rough and smooth, HD integrates the best of everything to create a truly unique texture and optical effect.

With 85 unique options carried in stock across Australia, AEON™ Enhanced Performance Laminate has something for everyone.

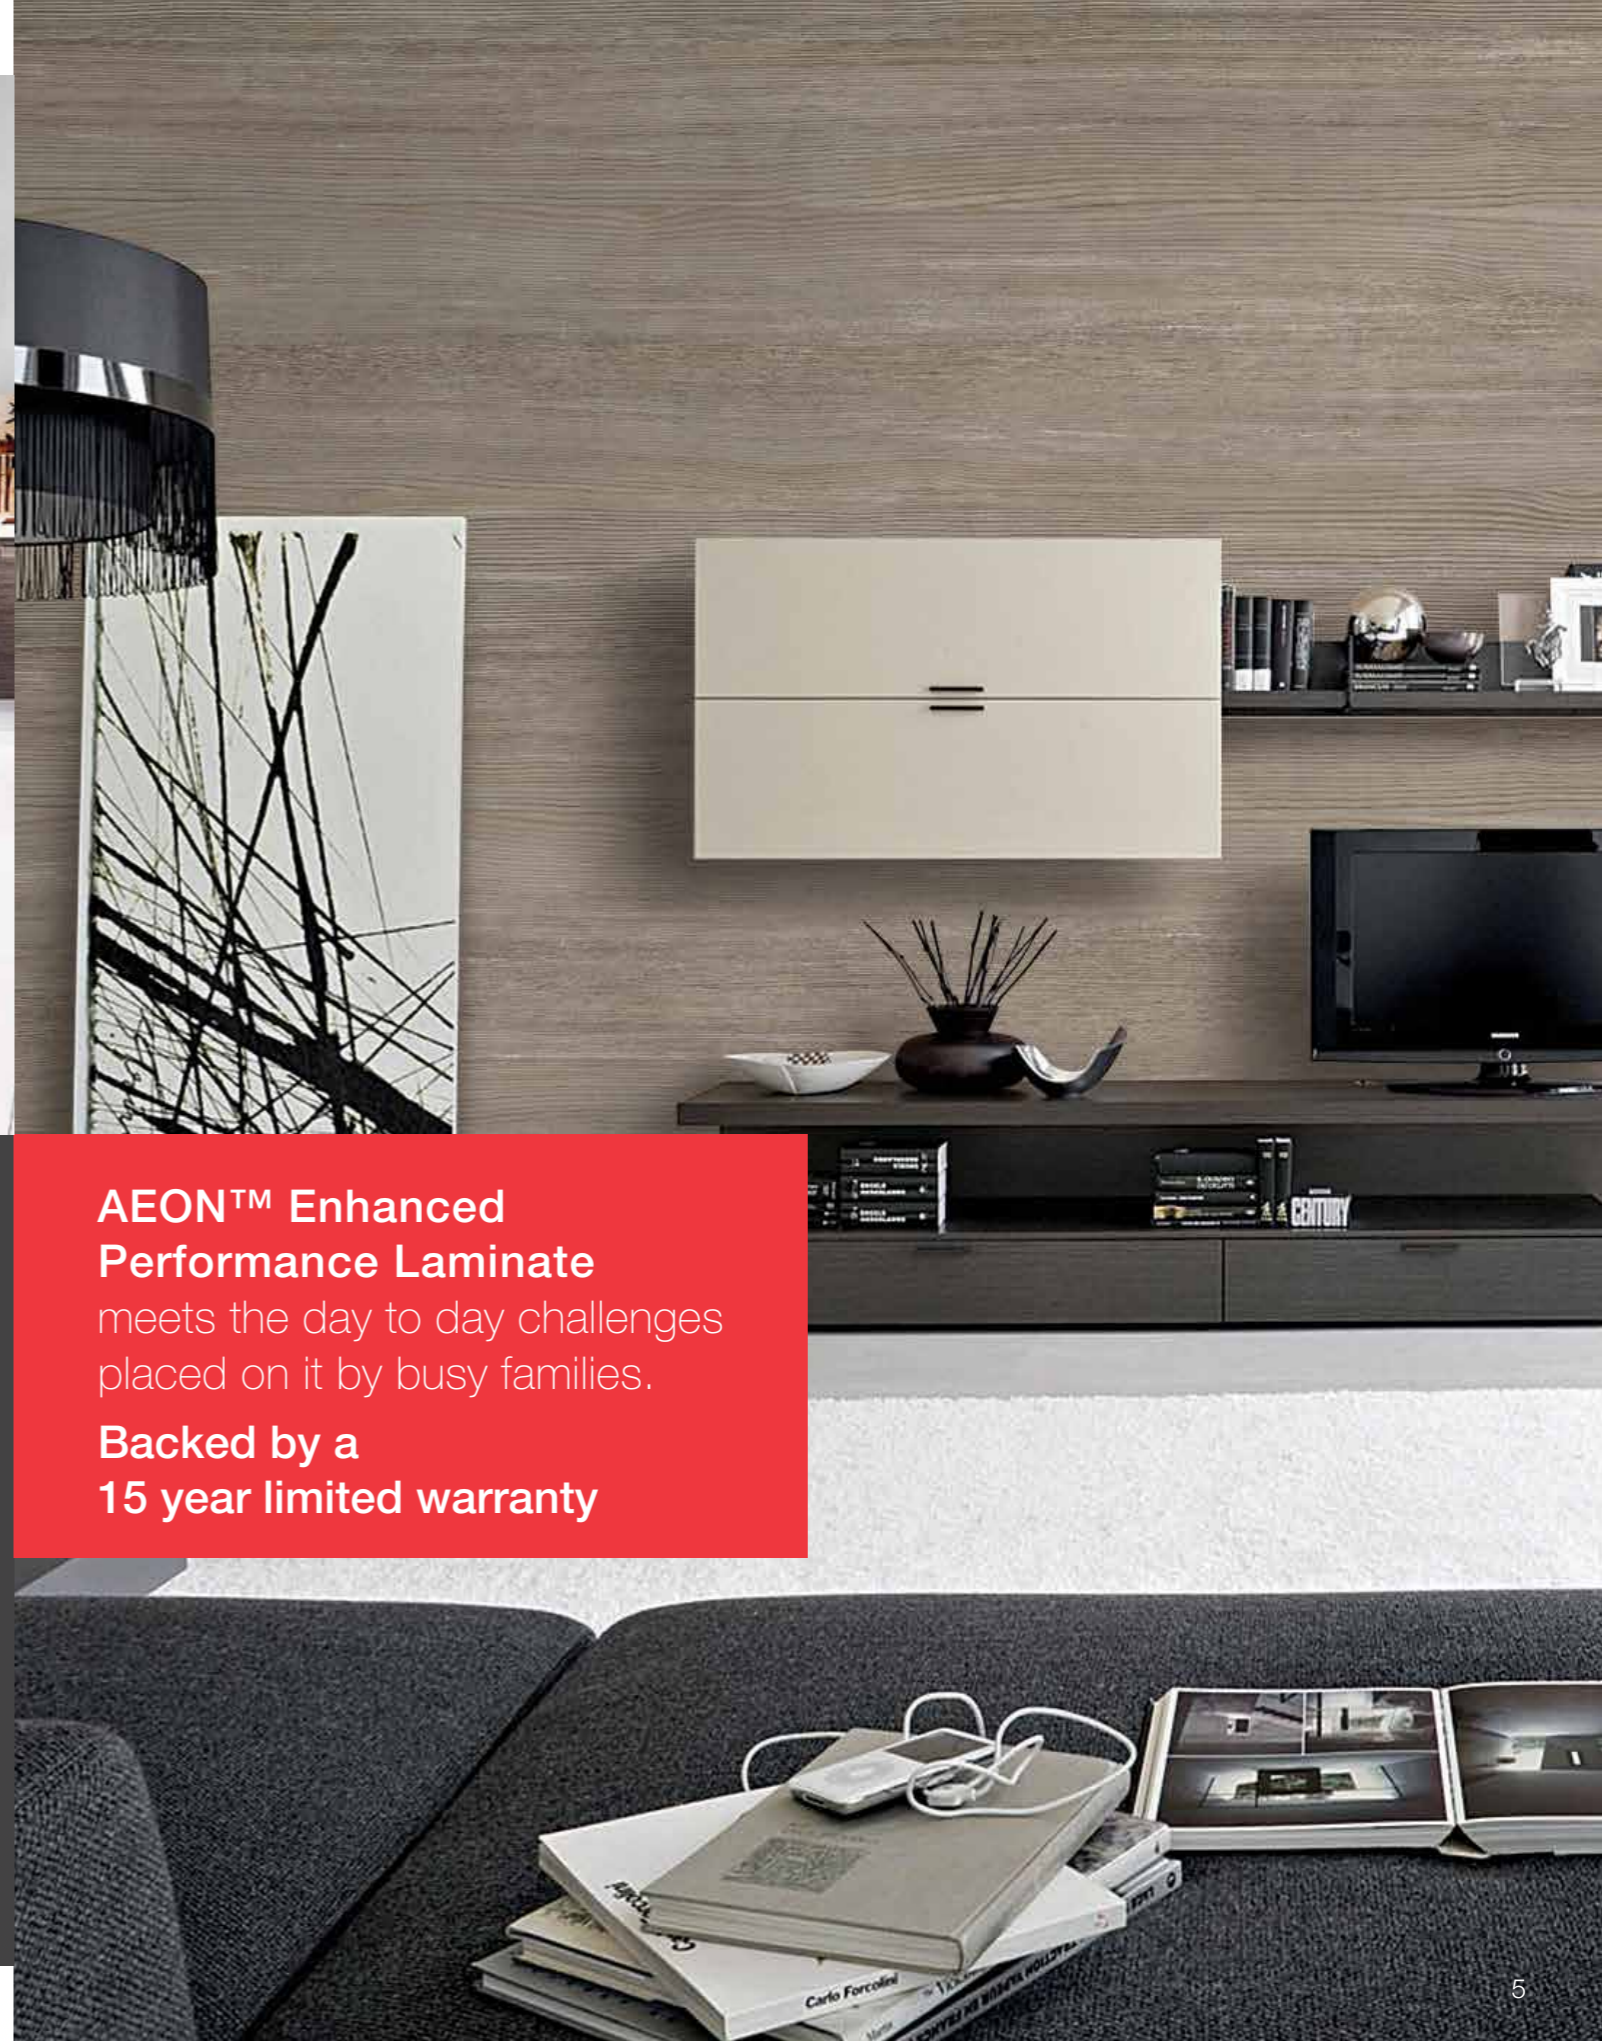

The unique strength and wear resistance of AEON™ Enhanced Performance Laminate sees it being used in high-wear areas for both horizontal and vertical applications. Designers and architects for some time have seen the benefit in using AEON™ and the product has not disappointed. Backed with a 15-year limited warranty, AEON™ Enhanced Performance is made only by Wilsonart® and is only available in Wilsonart® Laminates.
