

ARDEX DS 60 Decoupling Mat

ARDEX DS60 Decoupling Mat is an inert Butynol® membrane based decoupling system for 'floating' floor tile applications. The system provides a hard wearing floor surface which can isolate any effects of the subfloor and at the end of its use can be easily removed without damaging the floor.

UNIQUE FLOATING FLOOR TILING SYSTEM

- Tiles and mat not permanently adhered to the substrate, eliminating damage upon replacement or removal
- Floor surface level remains as originally designed
- Tiled surface is totally isolated from any sub-floor movement

VERSATILE

- Perfect for leased properties, commercial displays or the fashion conscious - with minimal mess, damage, cost and hassle to remove or replace tiles
- Remove limitations in creating a hardwearing tiled surface in more situations

CRACK ISOLATION

- The ARDEX DS60 Decoupling Mat can be used as a slip membrane to isolate substrate movement

ARDEX DS60 Decoupling Mat

SIMPLE TO INSTALL & REMOVE simple installation of the mat, with an adhesive used to temporarily hold the mat to the substrate which can be washed away upon the removal of the system and removes 'drumminess'. Tiling is then completed over the mat. Removal leaves no trace of tiled surface, and no damage to the substrate.

COST EFFECTIVE Minimal outlay during install offering maximum savings during removal or replacement, within commercial tenancies offers new opportunities of choice in the finished floor surfaces.

TECHNICAL SUPPORT Complete system specifications and recommendations based on our SYSTEMARDEX.

GREEN BUILDING APPLICATION A low VOC product that meets the Green Building Council of Australia standards.
