

ISSEY VERASUN

RETRACTABLE GLASS ROOF AWNING

Glass roofs and open pergolas can provide internal and external areas with greatly desired natural light. Unfortunately, these structures also allow in unwanted heat, glare and UV rays, making these spaces uncomfortable to use.

The Issey Verasun is a sophisticated, retractable roof for conservatories, courtyards or custom-built structures. Providing optimal protection from the sun's undesirable elements, it can still allow natural light to filter through. Being retractable, it successfully provides year round comfort, bringing cool summers and warm winters. The tensioned system ensures taut fabric and resistance to higher wind levels, while also providing for smooth operation.

Issey has created flexible variations of the Verasun to suit a range of sunroom structures, allowing you to creatively customise the area to your personal tastes and make it a unique, yet functional architectural feature for your home. Harmonising with the look and mood of any setting, the Issey Verasun inconspicuously retracts into its slimline headbox, revealing the beauty of your pergola or glass conservatory.
