

"The old wall and floor tiles were a nightmare to maintain and keep clean, and the new surfaces have made a huge difference. Our kitchen is no different from many others throughout the country, with small adjoining preparatory and wash areas which can be awkward to clean, but having the smooth surfaces, the process is simple."

"We chose Altro as we know their products are cost effective and won't cause headaches over hygiene. We're more than happy with the completed project."

Neil Anstiss,
Engineering Site Services Manager

"The problem we had with using ceramic tiles in the past was that, in order to maintain hygiene levels, the grouting joints needed renewing every three to four years. Altro proved to be the ideal solution and in two years I can honestly say we've had no problems. Altro Walling and Flooring has performed faultlessly. Cleaning is easy too and we have eliminated the problem of older grouting joints absorbing dirt"

Peter Bayliss,
Executive Chef
Holiday Inn

"In the past we have used ceramic tiles on the floors and walls of our shower areas but we were keen to move away from the problems of cleaning tiles, re-grouting and also of tiles popping out. Altro provided the solution we needed – the product is easy to clean and maintain, all of which saves us money. And because it's supplied in single sheets, we have no grouting joints to clean, even between the floor and the walls."

Act now to close the gaps and give your germs
Nowhere to hide

Nowhere to hide

A message that becomes clear to bacteria very quickly is that when wet areas and high traffic areas are covered with Altro Safety Flooring – they have nowhere to hide.

Altro Safety Flooring products provide slip resistance and are treated with Altrosan to reduce the growth of potentially deadly bacteria such as MRSA and VRE.

The Altro range of floor coverings beats ceramic tiles hands down!

Give them Nowhere to Hide.

Four reasons why Altro Safety Flooring is better than ceramic tiles

1. Hygienic, impervious jointing – grout can absorb liquid, germs and can stain. Altro is hot-welded making it completely impervious and more hygienic. Altro is endorsed by HACCP Australia as floor covering suitable for use in food processing and food handling environments.
2. No cracks, chips or scratches – Ceramic tiles can be broken and chipped. When damaged, they are prone to harbour bacteria. Altro is not only resilient, it contains Altrosan which helps fight potentially deadly bacteria such as MRSA and VRE.
3. Life long slip resistance – Altro has up to 20 years life expectancy, and the slip resistance is retained for the life of the product. No glaze to wear off.
4. Superior solution all round – up to R12 slip resistance, 20 years life expectancy, cleanability, nowhere for germs to hide, comfort underfoot, and wall/floor combination with Altro Wall Cladding

Altro Wall Cladding, the perfect partner

Altro Wall Cladding is a durable hygienic covering for internal walls. It is both a decorative and practical product that can be used anywhere. It is particularly appropriate for use in commercial kitchens, hospitals and healthcare, food and beverage processors and pharmaceutical installations.

The system provides an extremely high impact and hygienic alternative to wall tiles. It is watertight, seamless and has a wipe clean surface. It can withstand heavy knocks that would easily damage ceramics. It is easily joined to Altro safety flooring providing complete protection against germs and bacteria.
